All CLCC Owners,

I have a little good news for you.

I mentioned in the email sent earlier today that we have been working directly with Columbine Lake Water District the past few days about the water situation in CLCC.

We just received word from the GM of the CL Water District that they have shut off all water going into the CLCC community. They met with the fire department and everyone agreed that this is necessary at this point to protect our intact homes from potential frost damage. This is a community-wide water shutoff as they are unable to shut off individual lines to properties. Remember, please do not contact us to check on your home.

This comes as a result of hard work and some late night hours by Geoff Schaney, a CLCC board member, who worked closely with the GM of the Columbine Lake Water District to get this done. Great job and thanks, Geoff!!

On the fire front, there is a red flag wind warning in the Grand Lake area for most of today. Fire officials can't emphasize enough that it is still a very active fire zone in our area and we are not out of the woods just yet. The fire teams are setting backfires around the town of Grand Lake to prevent the fire from reversing course back into town. Let's all hope the snowfall forecast for tonight and tomorrow will really make a difference.

Stay safe everyone.
